Dear Mr. Ritner:

I appreciate your note of 25 April 1961 wherein you kindly state that The Macmillan Company still considers itself to be my "publisher."

It is good to hear from you, and I will certainly have your company in mind should I decide to publish a book.

Sincerely,

SIGNED

Allen W. Dulles

My dear Mr. Dulles:

As I am pretty new here, I want to take the opportunity to refreshen all the pledges made to you by my predecessors. For this Company still considers itself to be your "publisher." Naturally we won't intrude, or even ask what publishing plans for the future you have, if any, but we do want to express the hope that you will call on us any time there is something we can do for you.

Very truly yours,

Peter V. Ritner
